The VALUE is in the data, ease of use, and security.

With visibility into each transaction, you're able to see exactly how much fuel was dispensed from your aboveground storage tank to each asset. Since only approved assets are allowed fuel, you can enjoy the peace of mind associated with knowing that each gallon is accounted for, reliably. Plus, the customizable security options can add an extra level of security that you may need to secure your fuel. Adding assets are quick and easy - with cellular connectivity, the information is shared from the software to the hardware within minutes.
